Small Project Report The School of the Nations

In late November 2009 we became aware of an educational endeavor in Guyana. The project is called the Varga Foundation (<http://www.vargafoundation.org>). They run several schools under the name The School of the Nations. Their web site is: <http://www.nations.gy> In late December we sent a mixture of materials that were either purchased or donated. This included a teachers manual, audio and video materials and a book. The donated materials were mostly contributed by Red Grammer (<http://www.redgrammer.com>). Other materials came from Gentle Place Publishing (<http://gentleplace.com>). The statistics below are estimates.
